

HEALTH & SAFETY POLICY

Redstone Resources Ltd (RDS) places the health and safety of its employees and contractors above all other business considerations. RDS knows that superior health and safety performance is in the best interests of its business, contractors, shareholders and the communities in which it operates. RDS will strive to continuously improve the culture where safety is a core value and every individual takes responsibility for their own actions.

Management shall ensure all of RDS business strategies and operations align with this Health and Safety policy and confirm the commitment to the creation of a safe workplace, through the implementation of a Health and Safety management system and the promotion of safety awareness among their employees and contractors.

RDS will abide by all statutory Acts and Regulations as a minimum standard and will strive to maintain a level of safety that extends well beyond the legal requirements.

Richard Homsany
Chairman

Brett Hodgins
Technical Director

To enable health and safety objectives to be achieved, RDS will;

- Establish and continuously improve the health and safety policies, procedures and management systems,
- Assign responsibility and accountability to managers and supervisors for health and safety performance leading to a safe workplace,
- Establish responsibility and accountability for each employee to conduct their activities by safe work methods and practices,
- Require high safety standards and compliance from all contractors and service providers.

RDS encourages employee participation in all matters affecting the health and safety of our people and actively encourages the improvement of safe work methods and practices.